In Land For Sale, there is a break in at real estate agent Zoey Wright's home in the middle of the night. Ben Keyes investigates. The next day, Zoey discovers that her office has also been ransacked. Ben investigates the follow-up crime. Later, the body of a man is found in his garden, shot to death.

Later, Zoey goes to the police station to inquire about her case because she has discovered that a file is missing from her filing cabinet. She spots a picture of the murder victim and says that the man is the client whose file has been stolen

In Two Girls and a Dead Case, it starts with your typical lifelong friendship of two girls who are drawn together by their similar names and then bond. After exploring what the world has in store for them they come back and open a detective agency in their small town where nothing really happens. If it wasn't for a recurring client who only seems to show up when they need the money the most they would be two broke girls with nothing better to do.

In Memory Bites, a young boy hovers near death in a hospital room, his overly doting mother at his side and a calming voice that he hears in the mist of his unconscious mind. He recovers and is visited by the mystery woman. The boy goes through some major life changes including being allowed to go to school like regular kids and getting in his first fight. And, as he grows closer to his strange friend more changes keep coming.

In The Art of the Kiss and Other Mysteries, Dianna seemed to be an ordinary girl back in junior high. But there was something people didn't know about her. Some sort of a secret she unraveled years later – her life was completely changed by...two kisses. As simple as it may sound, those kisses determined her life once and forever.

The first one was...Ugh...definitely not the one every little girl dreams of. Is life really so unfair? Is fate so sadistic? Or maybe they are just preparing a big surprise? Dianna got a second chance and her second kiss was more than enough to make up for the first one. So was the third and the fourth and...

In A Classic Case of Murder, Ben and Mark, from the Clements Police Department , are investigating a pretty classic case of murder. Carrie Wellington, a famous writer, was murdered in her own car. What a tragic loss! She was such a nice woman, kind and generous! Who would think she'd end up strangled with ...a guitar string?
